With their achievements, perseverance, and just plain cojones, these kings and queens left us inspired, awed, and sometimes even amused.

Long may they reign.

JOSH WOOD & DAVID BINDER

MAESTROS

The brains behind this year's High Line Festival in New York City, Binder (right) and Wood have notched an awesome résumé between them. While Binder's focus has been on the stage, including producer credits for the off-Broadway hit De La Guarda and the Broadway revival of lesbian playwright Lorraine Hansberry's A Raisin in the Sun, Wood's interests have tended toward music and politics. He was the mastermind behind the marriage-equality tour Wedrock—with Lou Reed, Moby, and Pink—as well as Oxfam's Tsunami Relief concert with Cyndi Lauper and Nancy Sinatra.
